

THANK YOU VENDORS!

The Fall Festival Committee would like to thank past and present Arts & Crafts and Food Vendors. You have helped us to become one of the best festivals in Georgia and the entire Southeast. We credit this to the quality of your products, the attractiveness of your booths and your hospitable attitudes. We appreciate you and look forward to having you join us often in the years to come.

Proceeds from the Duluth Fall Festival are always used for the development and beautification of Downtown Duluth. Through the years, the Festival has donated over $3,000,000.00 for this purpose. The land, building, enhancements and projects achieved are for community use now, as well as for the enjoyment of future generations.

Duluth Fall Festival, Inc. is a non-profit
501(c)3 organization - Tax ID #58-2131799.

HISTORY AND PURPOSE

of the Duluth Fall Festival

The roots of Duluth Fall Festival go back over 50 years. In the spring of 1962 Duluth held its very first festival, with a five-week celebration of the history of the town. Then, in 1976, the Centennial of Duluth's Charter and the Bi-Centennial of our nation, was celebrated with another spring festival. Out of these, evolved the first Duluth Fall Festival in 1983. It has been an annual event ever since, getting bigger and better every year.

Now it is one of the most successful festivals in the Southeast. There are almost 400 volunteers divided into over fifty committees, each handling just one aspect of the festival. You can easily spot them wearing their new Fall Festival t-shirts that are custom designed each year. They are anxious to help you in any way so be sure to call on them. There is ongoing entertainment both days. Saturday starts with a big parade down Main Street that draws a huge crowd. Sunday morning a 5K race brings runners from all over the state. This is followed by a worship service on the Town Green.

However, the life of the Festival is found in the streets of Duluth with over 300 arts & crafts and food booths. These have hand made and hand decorated crafts of every description including clothing, linens, fall and Christmas decorations, furniture, art, jewelry, toys, and many other craft items. Festival committee members carefully select these vendors, evaluating applicants by uniqueness and appeal of their products. The food booths have everything from bar-b-que to hot dogs to funnel cakes to gyros to ice cream and much, much more! There are another 60 sponsor booths which pay a minimum of $1700 each to be there. It is a festival for the whole family with a little kid's section and a carnival.

The Festival itself lasts for only two days, but the work and planning for it goes on year-round. Each Festival has been a learning experience and has brought new ideas, new events and many improvements. All profits go back into the beautification and development of Downtown Duluth. Many projects have been completed and donations from sponsors and fees paid by Arts & Crafts and Food Vendors have helped greatly with all of this. These include landscaping, lighting, brick walkways, building renovations, courtyards, etc. The most ambitious accomplishments were acquiring Taylor Park and building the Duluth Festival Center.

However, the greatest difference the Festival has made is in the lives of the volunteers. It has given new people and natives a chance to get to know each other and work together towards a common goal and in the process become close friends. The festival through the years has made quite a difference in Downtown Duluth and in the lives of its citizens. The Festival more than anything else has kept the wonderful small town spirit of Duluth alive.
